

I highly support a rule giving consumers the ability to choose individual channels on cable and satellite programming instead of fixed packages. I think permitting this ability to choose would be a great public service.